Squeaky Gate is an inclusive creative education, production and performance company. We specialise in working with groups of people that are at risk of social exclusion but also run workshops for mainstream education and private clients. Music of all styles provides the basis of our work but we also incorporate drama, visual and media arts into our workshops and productions. We offer a unique blend of teaching experience with a wide range of clientele and strong connections in the music industry and with professional artists. Our methods are effective and produce strong and original work that everyone involved is proud of. Our educational partnerships allow us to offer our students nationally recognised qualifications.
